Colonial Cottage

During the Great Depression, money was tight and work was scarce, but in Erlanger, Kentucky, a local tobacco warehouse was busy with workers and farmers. In 1933, a forward-thinking Clara Rich saw an opportunity to fulfill a dream and opened a restaurant to feed the Erlanger community. The Colonial Cottage opened with a basic home-cooked menu served at affordable prices.

Decades later, the restaurant gracefully weathered the test of time. While the names and faces changed, The Cottage remained true to the original mission by offering great food at a fair price. Just as Clara stated so many years ago, "people need a place they can feel at home." For the Tri-State, that cozy place is The Colonial Cottage.

Current owners Matt and Noelle Grimes and children Jacob and Caitlin, are thrilled to be part of this historic landmark and pledge to continue the long-standing history of The Colonial Cottage. We look forward to becoming part of your family tradition.

Prices effective as of 3/9/11
